MACERATA

Macerata is a medium-sized town in the Marche region. It was built in the 10th and 11th centuries near the ruins of the ancient Roman town of Helvia Recina. Its historical centre situated on a hill at 311 m above sea level is completely enclosed within 15th and 16th century walls and appears architecturally harmonious thanks to the widespread use of bricks. Noteworthy buildings include the Loggia dei Mercanti of 1504, the theatre Lauro Rossi of 1774, the arena Sferisterio built in 1829, and the Church of the Vergini of 16th century with a painting by Tintoretto. Macerata is "City of Culture" because of its many cultural events (theatre, music, opera).

II EDITION

INTERDISCIPLINARY TRAINING OF EUROPEAN JUDGES ON IMPLEMENTATION OF EU RULES

I'umanesimo che innova

The project is organised by the University of Macerata (Italy) to support and promote judicial training on the application and interpretation of EU competition law with a mission of fostering a common legal and judicial culture. The aim is to contribute to improvement of knowledge, application and interpretation of EU competition law so as to ensure its coherent and consistent application.

The course is comprised of both e-learning and classroom-taught training activities on the following topics:

- _The disclosure of evidence in proceedings relating to an action for damages;
- _The passing on of overcharges and the interplay between damages actions related to the same infringement, but instituted by injured parties on different levels of the supply chain;
- _The quantification of antitrust harm in the framework of damages actions, including the application of the methods for quantification identified in the Commission's Practical Guide on the Quantification of Antitrust Harm;
- _The interaction between the public and the private enforcement of competition law, focusing on both positive interaction and measures to avoid negative interactions;
